Welcome to the Empire

Greetings visitor.

My name is JM, and I am a digital illustrator from China. Although I have established a certain reputation in China and Japan through my presence on Pixiv (https://www.pixiv.net/member.php?id=7603871), I have yet to share my work with the international community. I created this website in the firm belief that the power of hentai transcends all borders.

In order to reach a wider audience, I have joined forces with two translators. Together, we are Teikoku Kizoku / Imperial Nobility.

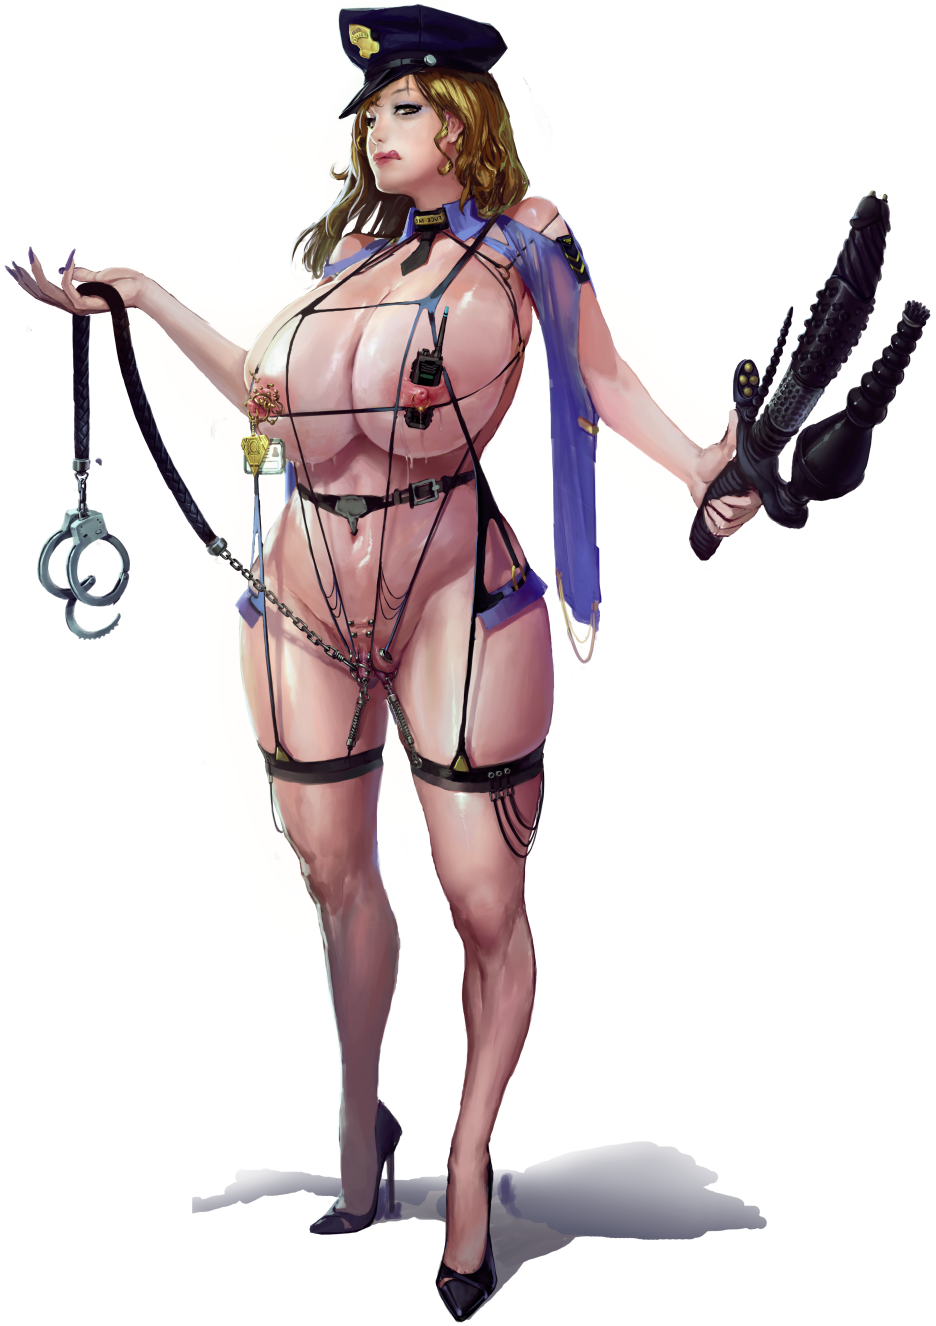
The Empire Series

As an artist, I am driven by the desire to visually express my darkest thoughts and fantasies through high-quality illustrations. To that end, I conceived of a fictional universe where men reign supreme: the world of The Empire. Join me as we embark on a journey to discover a world where society is predicated upon the absolute rule of men over women. Over the course of the series, you will learn about the origins of this patriarchal society, as well as various aspects encompassing the daily lives of its citizens, societal structure, religion etc. With your help, I hope to transport you into this fantastic world of my creation.



The quest for the bizarre is but to entertain

Let us treasure life

And treat women with love and respect
